As you read through this program, you will notice a number of advertisements. Most of the advertisers are either affiliated with the Manhattan Beach Community Church or come highly recommended by church members. Because of their willingness to advertise, we are able to offer the entire family an opportunity to see live drama at an affordable price -- a rarity in these days of inflation. We hope you will patronize these advertisers and that you will mention that you saw their names in this program. We also hope you enjoy tonight's performance. Thank you for coming.

BILL PARK --
"ROONEY"

has appeared in many MBCC productions. He played the Minister in the Shipmates production of "Silver Whistle." His other roles include the shy cop in "Night of January 16th," and an inmate in "Curious Savage." Bill also co-directed "George Washington Slept Here" and appeared as the Commissioner in "Damn Yankees."

BOB STEWART --
"OIHARA"

is an accomplished actor and stage manager. He appeared as the farmer in "George Washington Slept Here," a doctor in "The Man Who Came to Dinner," a physician in "The Terrible Tuners" and as Emmet in "Silver Whistle." Bob has also contributed to MBCC productions as a staff photographer.

PAUL DENNY --
"HOSKINS" (body)

made his acting debut in "Damn Yankees" as a ball player and added his singing talent to the chorus. Paul is currently studying theatre and taking voice lessons. He sings in the MBCC Choir and is a member of the Mira Costa High School cross-country team.

JIM MUTTON --
"JONATHAN"

who played Mickey in "Damn Yankees," moved to California 21 years ago. If you listen carefully you may be able to tell that he was once a native of North Carolina. An engineering manager for Hughes Aircraft, he is also a commander in the U.S. Naval Reserve and enjoys amateur radio. He and his wife, Connie, have a daughter and two sons.

WALT TAYLOR --
"DR. HARPER"

will be performing here in his fifth MBCC production. His credits include "Bye Bye Birdie" in which he played a Shriner, Mr. Hassler in "Pajama Game," as well as roles in "George Washington Slept Here" and "The Man Who Came to Dinner." Recent MBCC musicals have found Walt at the helm of the technical staff overseeing lighting and sound.

GUY HATLIE --
"MR. GIBBS"

fresh from the wheat fields of North Dakota, vaulted into his acting career by appearing in Mariner "Talent" Show productions. Several years later he was permitted back on stage as Boss McMordy's stone-faced but affable henchman in "Delegate Applegate." The director of "Damn Yankees" took advantage of his show-stopping delivery by casting him as a member of the chorus. Guy has served MBCC as Skipper of Mariners, Chairman of the Finance Board and currently as Moderator of the church. A finance manager at Hughes Aircraft, he and his wife, Judy, have two children.

WHO'S

BERNICE G. McMAHON -- has acting credits spanning several decades and will be best remembered for her last performance at MBCC as the lead in "Curious Savage." She has also performed with the Chapel and Manhattan Players. At the University of Iowa, she studied drama and did radio broadcasts of dramatic series. Her most recent honor is her inclusion this year in "The World Who's Who of Women" for her publication of articles, stories, one-act plays and two books of monologues. Bernice has a daughter who lives in Taipei and a son who lives in Hollywood.

ESTHER MIO -- has sung in the MBCC choir for fifteen years and has taken part in four previous MBCC productions. Her credits include a secretary in "How to Succeed in Business...", a nun and Fraulein Schweiger in "Sound of Music," a member of the Women's Auxilliary in "Delegate Applegate" and most recently as the assistant to the owner of the Washington Senators in "Damn Yankees." She modestly says this is her first major role, "with so many lines."

DON S. MATSO -- was born in Finland and immigrated with his family to the United States in 1948. They lived in New York where Don studied acting as a teenager and later attended college. He and his wife, Chris, a member of the choir, have lived in Manhattan Beach since 1963. They have two children who have taken active roles in youth productions at MBCC. Don was last seen as Amon in the MBCC sanctuary production "The Long Road Home."

WHO

LOIS STEPHENSON --
"ELAINE"

first came to MBCC when she was seven years old and performed in her first musical, "The Music Man," when she was fifteen. She became very active in the Glendale Center Theatre when she and her family moved to Glendale in 1966. Lois received the "Best Actress" award upon graduating from Hoover High School and has more recently performed in "Delegate Applegate" and "Damn Yankees," in which she also served as co-choreographer. She and her husband, Ron, have two daughters.

J.C. EDWARDS --
"TEDDY"

made his debut on the MBCC stage in the infamous Mariner "Talent" Shows and since that time has performed in "Delegate Applegate" (wearing three different uniforms) and in "Damn Yankees." For this production he is doing double duty, serving as set designer and as an actor. A Major in the U.S. Air Force Space Division in El Segundo, he is married to Pat Edwards, the Youth Choir Director at MBCC. They have two children.

PETER D. QUASS --
"DR. EINSTEIN"

is a veteran performer whose dramatic credits include "The Terrible Turners," "The Man Who Came to Dinner," "Night of January 16th" and "George Washington Slept Here." He directed "Rossum's Universal Robots" and portrayed Sancho in MBCC's "Man of LaMancha," Max Detweiler in "The Sound of Music," and Boss McMordy in "Delegate Applegate." His singing is popular throughout the country and occasionally in the city. Peter is married to Eileen Quass, actress, director and MBCC church secretary.

SANDI NOKE --
"OFFICER KLEIN"

is making her theatrical debut in this production but has long been an avid fan of the theatre. She and her husband, Rick, operate a data processing business and are the parents of two children.

TOM BULLARD --
"OFFICER BROPHY"

first came to the stage at MBCC in the production of "Rossum's Universal Robot" and made his musical debut in "Delegate Applegate." His most recent role was as one of the "team" in "Damn Yankees."

DON MacKENZIE --
"WITHERSPOON"

has played in several Mariner "Talent" Show acts and recently performed as Che Guevara in an abbreviated version of "Evita" aboard the SS Azure Seas. Don was born in Petaluma, Ca. and attended UC Berkeley and UCLA, where he majored in engineering. He is currently an engineering manager with Applied Research, Inc. in Los Angeles. He and his wife, Sandi, are Skippers of the Mariners Club and have one son.

MARINERS

Welcome to the Mariners production "Arsenic and Old Lace"! Mariners is primarily a social club for married couples. Our purpose is to join together for fun, good times and fellowship. Although Mariners is sponsored by the Manhattan Beach Community Church, couples do not have to be members of the church to join Mariners.

Our most visible activities are the potlucks held here in the Community Hall each month. We always have some type of entertainment at the potlucks. Most of the programs feature outside talent such as professional singers, musicians and dancers, magicians and speakers. Each potluck is preceded by a short pre-party held in the home of a Mariner couple.

Mariners socialize on many occasions other than the potlucks. Some of our recent events include a family snow trip, a whale watch, a five-kilometer Marinerthon, a summer picnic and a Halloween party. Mariners also get together at various times for special interest activities such as dining out, bridge and volleyball at the beach. With all of these opportunities for fun, we seldom find ourselves bored or lacking something to do!

The mobile nature of our lives often makes it difficult for couples to develop friendships in their neighborhoods or at work. We think Mariners helps fill this void, so we invite any couples seeking fun and friendship to contact us -- our phone number is 372-2391.

As a final note, on behalf of the Mariners we wish to thank JoAnne LeBaron, the Director, Rick Farrell and Carl Dadson, the Producers and all of the many other people who have contributed their valuable time and talents to this production. We especially wish to thank the MBCC Shipmates for lending their support, experience, time and manpower in helping us "pull it off".

Don and Sandi MacKenzie
Mariners Skippers

BEAU LeBARON --
"SPENALZO" (body)

is the youngest player in the cast at thirteen years of age. He appeared as a singing baseball player in "Damn Yankees." His credits also include performances as a Mime at Begg Junior High School. Beau is active in athletics, participating in AYSO soccer and youth basketball.

JOANNE LeBARON -- DIRECTOR

first appeared in the 1967 Mariner production "Pajama Game." She has emerged as one of the South Bay's most prominent directors. Her talent is enhanced by her experience in several Shipmate productions, including "How to Succeed in Business...", "Night of January 16th," "The Man Who Came to Dinner," "George Washington Slept Here," "Man of LaMancha" and most recently, "Damn Yankees." JoAnne manages a household of five and also works as a reservation consultant for British Airways.
